

The Seed

God is love

God is good

God is the husbandman who plants the seed of hope

In the dark furrows of the soul.

In His goodness He nurtures the precious seed

Shielding it from destruction in the bitter winds of adversity

In His love, He brings it to fruition causing the tender shoots

To rise above the bondage of the cold earth.

As the seed searches for the light,

There is the dawning of life in the warmth of the sun.

Searching, growing, maturing, nature comes alive.

Responding to the love of her creator.

This life giving seed is in us all, that we may seek God;

Through Christ the living seed,

Who died and rose again from the dark recesses of the tomb

In resurrection glory to proclaim the love of God.

That from the tiny seed of faith planted in the embryo

We might reach the heights of finding our all in God.
